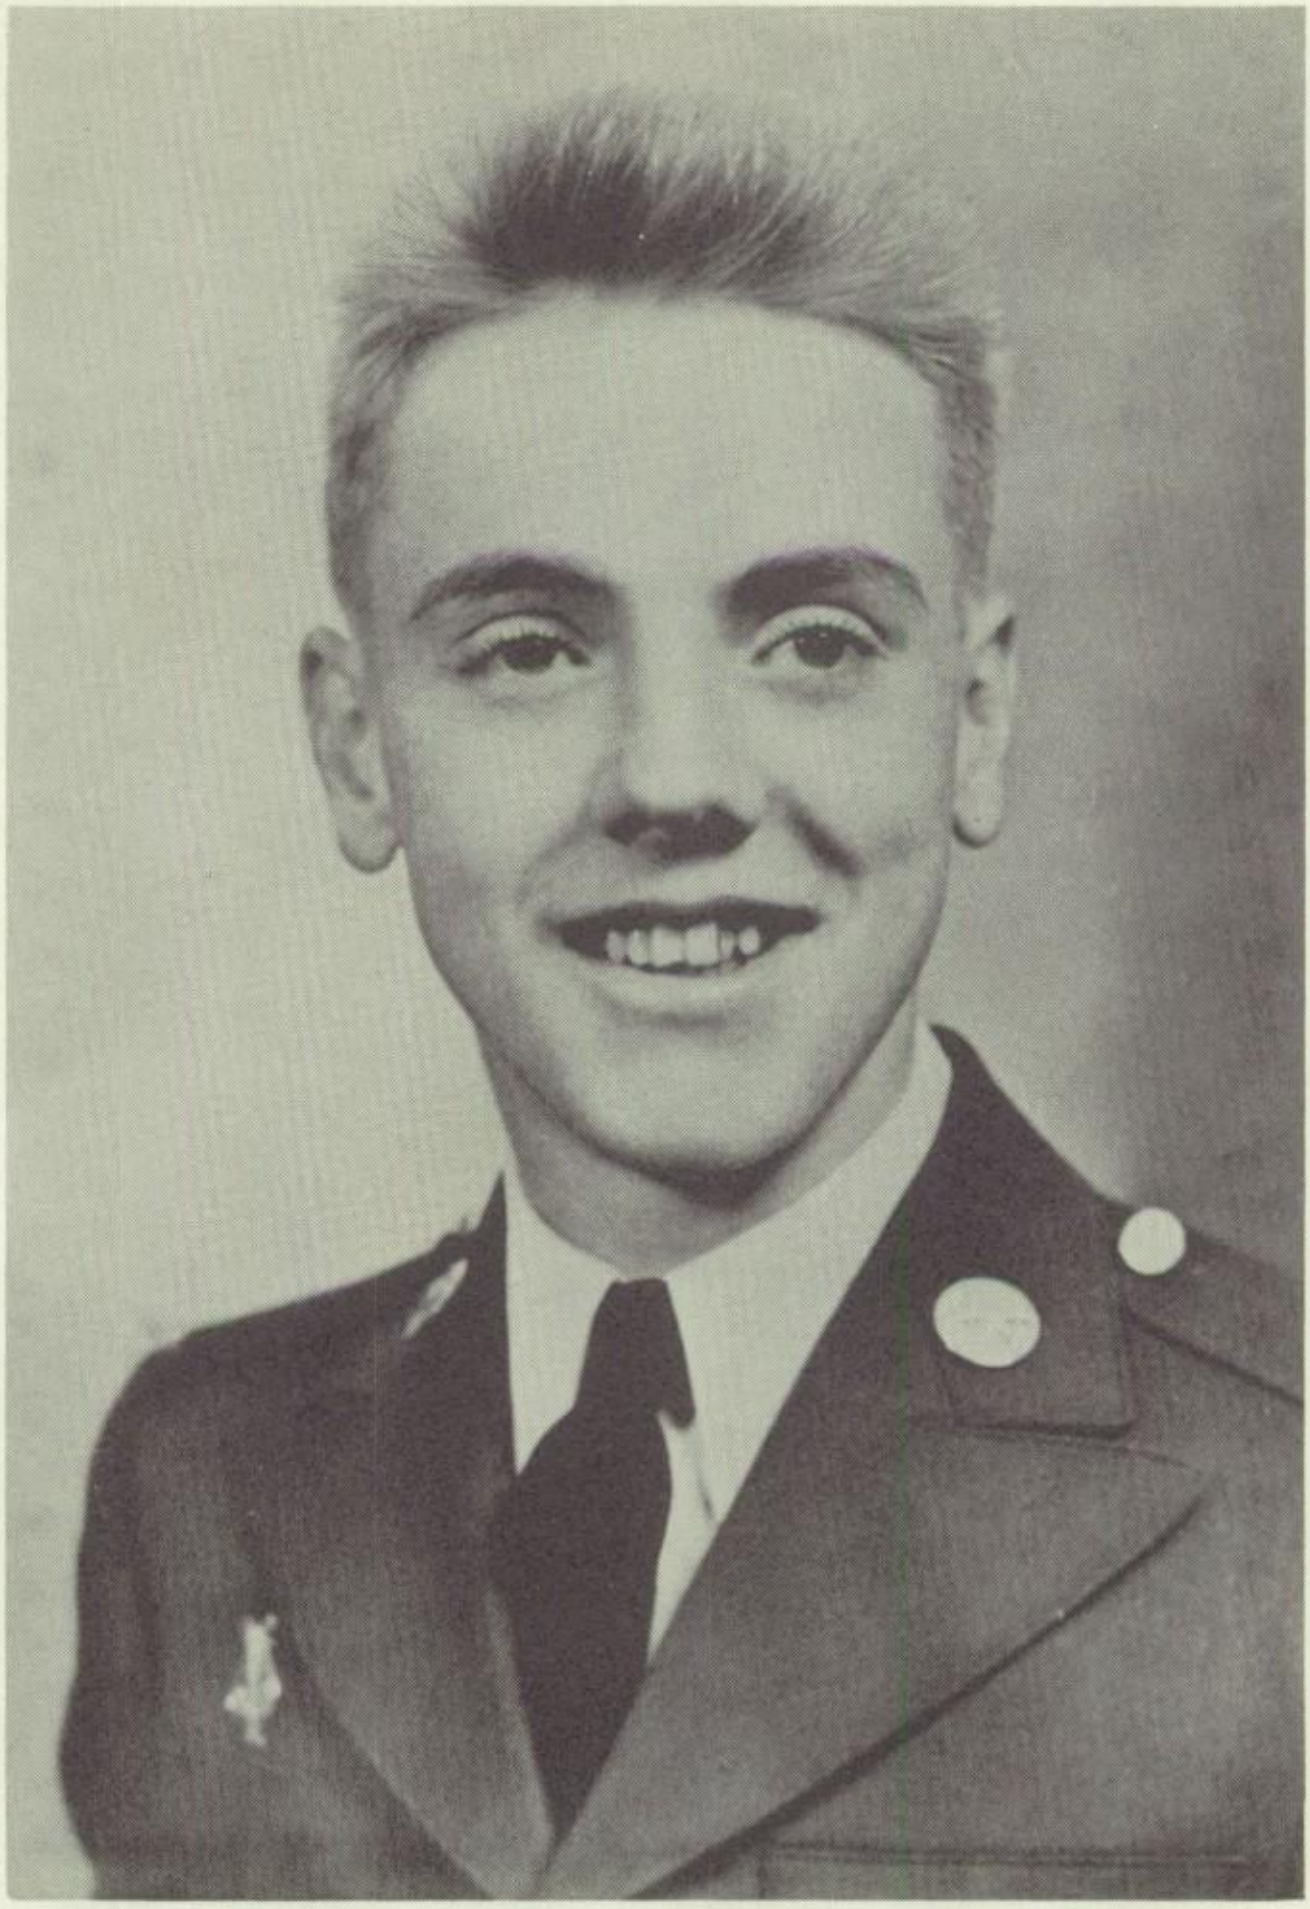
Dedication



We, the class of 1955, wish to dedicate this annual to Richard J. D. Lonsdale. We have greatly enjoyed the pleasant association with "J. D." these past twelve years and through this dedication we "salute you, J. D."

J. D. is completing his senior year of high school at the Riverside Military Academy, Gainesville, Georgia.

Class History

Our present senior class began their kindergarten year in 1942 under the patient guidance of Miss Kathleen Kossack. Thirteen of the twenty-two members were present. They were as follows: Ronnie Davis, Sharon Ibbotson, Max Kongable, Betty Jean Lee, Sharon Anderson, Leland Long, Nancy Mason, Eugene Meeker, Larry Owens, Randall Rickey, Leon Rossiter, Sandra Swarts and Eleanor Marshall. In addition we had: Carol Aspelmier, Sally Bellamy, Nancy Edgar, Bennie Fred, Iris Ireland, David Linberg, Dickey Phillips, Larry Piper, and Kathryn Singheim.

Dickey Philips, Nancy Edgar, Leland Long, Max Kongable, and Larry Piper left in the first grade. We gained Larry Smith, Wilma West, Barbara Burge, Duane Hill, and Robert Widmer. Our instructor was Miss Helen Blair. In the second grade, Eleanor Marshall, Richard Dickinson, Kathryn Singsheim, Wilma West, and Barbara Burge left; and Betty Freeman, Leland Long, and Dale Keeler joined us. We were under the supervision of Miss Betty McLandsborough. Miss Elma Young carried us through the third grade. Dale Keeler, Duane Hill, and Larry Smith left us; Adam Ireland, Roger Kissinger, Dean Lake, Orville Palister, and Kathleen Reynolds enrolled, increasing our number by two. We were very happy to have Miss Adeline Humphreys for our fourth grade teacher. She was an inspiration to all of us. During that year we gained Larry Smith, Elaine Evans, Gary Hart, and Saundra Githens. We lost Sally Bellamy, Adam and Iris Ireland, and Betty Freeman. Miss Etta Mae Lantz was our fifth grade teacher. Kathleen Reynolds and Gary Hart left. DaWanna Crabtree, Adam and Iris Ireland, Eleanor Marshall, Anna Mae Schlieper, and Tony Geisler became members of our class. Adam and Iris left again in the sixth grade and Wilda Lynn Allen and John Crabill came to Winfield. Miss Thelma B. Hunter was our teacher. Coming closer to high school, we advanced through the seventh grade under the guidance of Mrs. Bernice Allen. We really learned our English that year, even if it doesn't sound like it at times! Saundra Githens and Bennie Fred moved that year. Mr. Herbert Von Arx gave us our coveted eighth grade diplomas. Iris and Adam were back, plus Donna Humphreys and Max Kongable. DaWanna Crabtree and John Crabill left at the end of the year.

The arrival of Bob Erickson increased our enrollment during our freshman year, but we were decreased by five the following year. Those leaving us were: David Lindberg, Iris and Adam Ireland, Donna Humphreys and Larry Smith. Stanley Jennings and Roger Hadler joined us our junior year. The last addition to our class was Don Murphy, who spent the first semester with us, but returned to Washington for the last semester. J. D. Lonsdale left Winfield High to spend his last year of high school training in a military school. The class was sorry to have J. D. leave as he was one of the original beginners of the class of '55.

Class Will

I, Wilda Allen, will my nicknames to Mr. Pogemiller in hopes that he will appreciate them more than I did.

I, Sharon Anderson, will my sympathy to Nancy Ibbotson to be used during her lonesome senior year.

I, Betty Jean Lee, will my marching ability to Wanda Roberts. Beware of those "patsy steps", Wanda.

I, Sandra Jean Swarts, will my bashfulness to Fleeta Haight. It does come in handy once in a while, cousin.

I, Robert Widmer, will my biology book to Terry Carden.

I, Eugene Meeker, will my height to Larry Sands. Hope you can catch up with your brother.

I, Max Kongable, will my ability to tell and remember jokes to Mike Jennings, though he really doesn't need it.

I, Leland Long, will my sneakiness to Mike Jennings.

I, Roger Kissinger, will my "slow speed and safe driving" to Rex Widmer.

I, Eleanor Marshall, will all of my broken pencils, used erasers, torn books, and anthing else she might not need to Sherry Stull.

I, Leon Rossiter, will my ability to block in football to Warren Scott. I hope you do better than I did, Warren, as I missed most of mine.

I, Stanley B. Jennings, will my ability to never get my papers in on time to Bobby Perrenoud. As if you need it.

I, Larry Owens, will my job of calling signals to Rex Widmer. Hope you have better luck than I had.

I, Nancy Mason, will my long hair to Judy Hill. It takes time, so you had better hide the scissors.

I, Randall Rickey, will my shortness to Craig Miller. Take good care of it; it comes in handy.

I, Eleaine Evans, will my tumbling ability to Susan Hoover. Here's hoping you have better luck than I did.

I, Sharon Ibbotson, will my old and carved up desk in study hall to Eileen Stockman.

I, Ronnie Davis, will my great love for school to Terry Carden.

I, Roger Hadler, will my ability to hit the quarterback in the head when centering the ball to Bob Perrenoud.

I, Bob Erickson, will my ability to climb light poles without getting hurt to anyone who wants to break his neck.

I, Dean Lake, will my safe-driving record to Jerry Ross, hoping he can keep it clean.

Prophecy

My heart was flying! For the first time since I graduated from college, six years ago, I was going home to Winfield. I knew I would soon be there, for I was going by jet. I had been the stewardess on this first jet passenger plane until I met the pilot who is now my husband. My thoughts went back to my high school and college days, and my classmates. Some of them, who live in New York as I do, I know about. Wilda, for instance, is a dancer with the Manhatten Rockettes. Others are nationally and internationally famous. Among these are: Bob Erickson who is Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. He had graduated from law school and since then has climbed fast in that field. Also, there is Professor Stanley Jennings who built the first rocket ship to Mars. Roger Kissinger, who accompanied him, was appointed by the President as the first ambassador to Mars. Then there is Larry Owens, the richest man in the United States, who made billions of dollars by inventing a new, tasty, indelible lipstick from peanuts. I guess Larry got tired of smeared lipstick in high school. Few people know, however, that Sharon Anderson is his special and official tester. It seems odd that Larry, who was one of the healthiest boys in high school, should need a special nurse. Of course, everyone has heard of Elaine Evans and Dr. Eugene Meeker who invented a new miracle drug for the cure of the common cold. They got the name, REEREM, from the combination of their initials.

Many of my former classmates are famous in the entertainment field. Leon Rossiter is, perhaps, the most famous because everyone knows of the famous movie star, idol of all the bobby soxers. Other famous entertainers are Ronnie Davis, who is head of a motorcycle thrill show, Max Kongable, who has a dog act on television, and Dean and Leland who play on the new television station at Del Rio, Texas. Several others are connected with the entertainment field. Roger Hadler is the coach of a champion girls' baseball team. Many people don't consider girls' baseball a source of entertainment, but I'm sure Roger does. Similarly, Nancy is hair stylist for Gorgeous George.

Many of my classmates I had lost track of, but by that time I was curious enough to do a little investigating when I got home. Only two of the girls, I found, had made a career out of marriage. They are Sharon Ibbotson, who didn't even get through nurses' training because she married one of those handsome doctors; and Betty, who became locally famous a short while ago by having a set of triplets which gives her a total of twelve children. They're cheaper by the dozen, Betty. Sandra has also made a name for herself. She is a Professor ot Education at Yale University. There are probably a lot of girls who are envious of Sharon. Imagine teaching at a men's school! Randall made a business of doing the impossible. He sells, of all things, refrigerators to the Eskimos! They use them for making ice cubes to use in building igloos. Bob Widmer is, perhaps, the most satisfied with his achievement. He discovered a new route to Des Moines so he can get there in ten minutes. Of course he needs his new jet automobile to get there in that short time. I think he should invent a new route to Winfield from all of the scattered-out places that the members of our high school class are so that we can all get home and together more often.

Third row-R. Roberts, P. Marshall, M. Jennings, D. Murphy, M. McCreight, J. Berkshire, K. Briggs, B. Royer, R. Mathews.

Eugene Meeker and Craig Miller went both ways at end, with Miller outstanding on defense and Meeker our best offensive receiver. Bob Widmer and Leon Rossiter went both ways for us at the guard spots. Both boys deserve a great deal of the credit for opening the holes which allowed our running game to excell. Roger Hadler played the offensive center position. This was his first year in football and he played with increasing skill as the season progressed. Owens, Davis, and Carden composed our starting backfield during most of the year. Rex Widmer, in addition to backing up our line as a regular on defense, was our first backfield replacement, starting several games. Richard Anderson was our starting defensive halfback and saw considerable action on offense.

Winfield's two year record under coach Bill Purden stands at 13 wins 3 losses. Graduation will take a heavy cut in next year's starting team, six starters plus three reserves being seniors. Carden and Miller are the only returning starters from this year's squad. Winfield finished in a threeway tie for second place in the SEI Conference.

Winfield averaged 26.2 points per game while holding their opponents to 7.2.
